Upcoming Events

Climate activists from Regina and Saskatoon will come together on April 17th in Regina to support an appeal of a climate change court case.

The case was launched by seven Saskatchewan residents and Climate Justice Saskatoon three years ago. They claim the Saskatchewan Government violated their Charter rights by expanding gas-fired electricity generation. A justice with the Court of King's Bench dismissed the case in October of last year. For more click the link: https://www.sustainablesask.ca/court-action.html

The climate case appeal begins 10AM in Courtroom #7 at the Regina Court of King's Bench (2425 Victoria Ave). Join us inside as observers or outside with posters from 11AM until the hearing wraps.

Snacks and drinks provided. Debrief + pizza at Copper Kettle afterward.
Come for an hour or stay for the day.

About Us

EnviroCollective Network Inc. is your community's hub for practical, people-powered climate action. We exist to create a nonpartisan space where collaboration thrives and solutions take root. By connecting organizations, businesses, and all levels of government with an engaged public, we help amplify the work already happening to address climate change.

Join us! When we come together as a collective, we tap into a shared energy and inspiration that's hard to find when acting alone. By adding your voice, your curiosity, and your commitment, you help build a stronger, more connected community, one that's ready to take meaningful climate action. Behind The Scenes at Pepsi Park — September 2026

On September 5, Eastview brought us their wobbly, frayed and mysteriously dead. 56 items came in. 31 were fixed, 11 were partly fixed, and only 7 were beyond saving.

The August 8 Repair Café at Victoria Square Mall was another busy day of fixing, tinkering and giving broken stuff a second chance.

What We've Been Up to — July 2026

Our July 18 Repair Café took place right in the middle of Encore Market on 8th, surrounded by gently used furniture, appliances, lighting, tools, building supplies and housewares, all reminders of the value of reuse.
